Janet Kenward 	I have worked in education in leadership, teaching, training and assessing roles for 34 years. My teaching career began in Adult and Further Education teaching Numeracy and Maths to students with Learning Difficulties, Adult Returners and those who found Maths very difficult. I later co-ordinated the teaching of Numeracy and Maths to Adults for a London Borough and subsequently managed the Adult Education provision in a Community School. As Principal/CEO of an Independent Specialist College which provides day and residential learning programmes for students with learning disabilities for 17 years, I felt passionately about the college, wanted to ensure its success into the future and, at the same time, look towards enjoying a reduced workload while continuing to use my skills for the benefit of others. I continued as CEO of the charity until March 2016 looking at diversification of the charity. I was a member of the Board of Directors of Natspec (Assoc. of National Specialist Colleges) for 5 years during this time. I enjoyed supporting other ISCs and working with the CEO, other Board members, DfE and EFA staff to consider and implement national changes in the sector.	Specialist Further Education Colleges Education leadership EHCP process	Safeguarding Committee Teaching &amp; Learning Workgroup
